

Personality Questionnaire

Rules for usage

This questionnaire can be used to clarify and identify different aspects of your relationship. Start by making four (4) copies; two for you, and two for your partner. Privately, you each fill out one copy about yourself and one copy as you believe your partner would answer those same questions. If you're in a secure relationship, why not exchange copies.

As you look over the answers, discuss them. This is not meant to create a discordant atmosphere but, rather, an appreciation for the beliefs and feelings of your partner. Think of this as a refining process. You can keep on doing what you think is working or begin to modify and enhance your love life.

There is no right or wrong to any answer. It is designed strictly to help couples get to know each other much more than they do. Many times, you'll find yourself saying, "Gee, honey, I didn't know you liked that!"

Downloading and using this questionnaire indicates that you assume full responsibility for any and all discussions arising from its use. Neither www.casinodanova.com nor its designers may be held liable for improper usage.
